Introduction

“High Performance with Integrity” is an Alcon strategic imperative.

Alcon promotes the societal and environmental values of the United Nations Global Compact to its suppliers and uses its influence where possible to encourage their adoption. The Alcon Third Party Code of Conduct (hereinafter referred to as “The Code”) is based on the United Nations Global Compact, the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, and other international standards or accepted good practices. The Code is aligned with Alcon’s Company Code of Conduct.

Alcon requires its Third Parties to comply with the standards defined in The Code. Furthermore, our Third Parties are expected to adopt with their own suppliers, standards that broadly cover the same principles as contained in our Code.

Alcon is committed to being a leader in good corporate responsibility and this commitment is embodied in The Code.

The Code does not replace local law. Alcon expects Third Parties to operate in compliance with applicable laws, rules and regulations in addition to the standards contained herein.

The Third Party acknowledges that their engagement is never used by Alcon to create an incentive or reward for prescribing Alcon products or to secure any improper business advantage for Alcon.

Links referenced on this page and a glossary of terms used can be found at the end of this document.

Monitoring against our standards

Adherence to the standards contained in this Code is one of the criteria used in the Alcon Third Party selection and evaluation process.

Alcon expects Third Parties to adhere to applicable legal standards and any higher standards contained herein. Under some circumstances, where the Third Parties have shown and continue to show a material commitment to improvement, Alcon is willing to work with them to bring about improvements through engagement and collaboration. This may include audits, development and progress monitoring of corrective action plans, referring suppliers to external experts, and other reasonable improvement plans.

Responsible Procurement – Ethical Standards

1 Labor Rights

Third Parties shall be committed to uphold the human rights of workers and to treat them with dignity and respect. The labor elements include:

1.1 Freely Chosen Employment

Suppliers shall not use forced labor, including, bonded, indentured or involuntary prison labor or engage in any form of slavery or human trafficking.

Forced Labor - Management Systems: A nominated manager with responsibility for HR at each site follows policies and procedures to ensure that all onsite workers have freely chosen to be there and are fully paid for the work they do.

Prison Labor: The use of any prison labor is voluntary and clearly communicated to Alcon, and where used, all applicable local laws or international guidance is followed.

Notice Periods: Workers are free to leave their jobs after reasonable notice and are paid on time and in full for the work they have done prior to leaving.

Retention of Identity Papers/Passports: Workers are not required to hand over their identity papers to secure employment unless required to do so by local law. If this is the case, workers have access to their papers at all times.

Freedom of Movement: Workers are able to freely come and go from the site or onsite accommodation at all times and are not controlled by security guards (e.g. monitored during breaks, followed to the toilets, etc.).

Cash Deposits: Workers do not pay “deposits” to secure a job or employer-provided accommodation, nor do they pay excessive “deposits” for tools, training or personal protective equipment necessary to carry out their jobs safely.

1.2 Child Labor and Young Workers

Third Parties shall not use child labor. The employment of young Workers below the age of 18 shall only occur in non-hazardous work and when young Workers are above a country’s legal age for employment and the age established for completing compulsory education.

Child Labor - Management Systems: A nominated manager with responsibility for HR ensures that there are adequate policies and procedures in place to monitor the ages of workers at each site.

Child Labor: Children below the local minimum working age, the age of compulsory education or the ages set out in the International Labor Organization Core Conventions (whichever is higher) are not employed.

A child is:

- Any young person below the ages defined in the International Labor Organization Core Conventions, which is 15 in Developed Countries or 14 in Less Developed Countries.
- Any young person below the local legal minimum working age where this is higher than 15.
- Any young person below the age of local legal compulsory education where this is higher than 15.

Remediation: If children are found working, an appropriate remediation procedure to ensure the welfare of the child is put in place. If children are found working, Third Parties will:

- Remove the child from the workplace immediately.

- Put in place a suitable plan to support the child, which may involve covering the cost of formal or vocational training, accommodation or other costs as necessary.

Young Workers: Young people under the age of 18, legally able to work, do not carry out any hazardous work (chemical handling, strenuous physical labor, etc.) or night shifts, and all applicable local laws are followed, including access to education, training, health checks and number of hours allowed to work, etc.

1.3 Non-Discrimination

Third Parties shall provide a workplace free of harassment and discrimination. Discrimination for reasons such as race, color, age, gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, disability, religion, political affiliation, union membership, pregnancy or marital status is not tolerated.

Non-Discrimination - Management Systems: A nominated manager with responsibility for HR ensures adequate policies and procedures are in place at each facility to prevent discrimination as well as manage effective disciplinary procedures. All workers know to whom they can report incidences of discrimination.

Non-Discrimination: Workers do not face harassment or discrimination at any time (from recruitment to leaving employment) for any reason such as race, color, race, age, gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, disability, religion, political affiliation, union membership, pregnancy or marital status. 1.4 Fair Treatment

Third Parties shall provide a workplace free of and with no threat of harsh and inhumane treatment, including any sexual harassment, sexual abuse, corporal punishment, mental or physical coercion or verbal abuse of workers.

Fair Treatment - Management Systems: A nominated manager with responsibility for HR ensures adequate policies and procedures are in place so that all workers receive fair treatment. Workers understand disciplinary and grievance procedures, and fines imposed on workers as part of a disciplinary action are legal and fair.

Supervisors and managers found abusing workers are disciplined accordingly.

Harassment or Abuse: Workers neither face nor are threatened with bullying, sexual harassment, sexual abuse, corporal punishment, mental or physical coercion or verbal abuse.

Role of Security Personnel: Workers are not subject to unreasonable body searches. Physical security searches are only carried out by authorized bodies, according to local legal standards, and by same-sex security guards.

Fair Treatment - Bribery: Workers do not have to pay other workers to avoid victimization or preferential treatment.

1.5 Wages, Benefits and Working Hours

Third Party shall pay workers according to applicable wage laws, including minimum wages, overtime hours and mandated benefits.

Third Parties shall communicate in a timely manner with workers regarding the basis upon which they will be paid. Third Parties are also expected to communicate with the worker whether overtime is required and the wages to be paid for such overtime.

Wages and Working Hours - Management Systems: A system is in place to monitor the hours and wages paid to all agency staff onsite, and complete hours and payroll records are kept for all workers onsite at all times.

Wages: Workers are not required to do unpaid work. Workers' monthly pay, or piece rate, is at least at local legal minimum wages or industry benchmarks, and is paid regularly and in full, in accordance with local laws.

Overtime - Pay: Overtime is paid according to all local laws, and where these do not exist, as a minimum at the same rate as normal pay, but ideally at a premium rate.

Health, Safety and Environment

Given the breadth, complexity and size of Alcon's supply chain, the outlined standards in section 2 and 3 for Health, Safety and Environment (HSE) provide Third Parties with basic standards and concepts that Alcon expects adherence to throughout its supply chain.

Alcon expects each Third Party to understand the applicable HSE standards for its specific products or services, and to augment these standards with the additional product/service specific standards as necessary. The effectiveness of the protection needs to be verified by trained and experienced or certified subject matter experts.
